

CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

Do you have a passion for writing? Are you interested in volunteering? Are you in need of professional development hours for ProDev? If so, the Association is looking for a volunteer to participate on the Keystone Professional Committee.

KEYSTONE PROFESSIONAL COMMITTEE

The Keystone Professional Committee is responsible for communications to Association practitioners and the release of information to the public by such means as the publication of The Keystone Professional.

General Duties and Responsibilities:

- Facilitate the release of information to the public by publishing the Association's quarterly magazine as a source of information for the membership and general public.
- Solicit and develop articles on topics of interest to the membership for publication.
- Liaise with other Association committees or a task group which will provide information of specific or general benefit to the membership.

Specific Skills and Qualifications

- Be a professional engineer or geoscientists, intern, student, or assessment candidate who can participate in regular meetings to discuss current issues relating to engineering and geoscience
- Previous writing and editing experience
- Has a keen interest in writing and editing articles of interest for publication in The Keystone Professional
- Is detailed-oriented

Time Commitment:

The committee meets face to face approximately eight times a year with the meetings being over the lunch hour. Teleconferencing for meetings is also available. Committee members also need to be available to commit to 1-2 hours of remote time per quarterly issue for writing and reviewing articles for The Keystone Professional.

How to Apply:

If you are interested in joining the Keystone Professional Committee please send your current resumé to Diana Vander Aa at Volunteer@EngGeoMB.ca